Big Wheat Pool Plan

Arrangements Under way for Pooling the Farm Products

CALGARY.—In the very near future wheat growers of Alberta in connection with those of the other wheat growing provinces, will have before them ready to sign contracts for the sale of the 1921 crop through a farmers' wheat pool, declared Mr. Grandfield of Westlock, on his arrival in Calgary, during the week end, after attending the recent meeting in Winnipeg of the Canadian Council of Agriculture. Mr. Grandfield is a member of the council. The Council last week received the report of the special committee which had been appointed to consider the possibility of forming a pool, and after a discussion which lasted the greater part of two days decided to organize a pool to handle next year's harvest. Mr. Grandfield stated in conversation with the "Albertan" that he felt that in order to make the undertaking a success it must handle at least 70 per cent of the wheat of the three prairie provinces, and the opinion of the council was that he can be assured of this and probably more. The nearer we approach to one hundred per cent, the more successful the wheat pool is likely to be.

Public Meeting of Town Ratepayers

School Invention Receives Attention From Electors

The ratepayers' meeting held last Friday evening brought forth little in the way of the sensational news very much of the school affairs. In fact school affairs took precedence over town council business, and quite an argument was precipitated by R. A. Struthers' expansion policy. Mr. Struthers advocated a larger school district, the addition of another school teacher. In the staff, the building of an addition to the school the same as the present building, the employing of a trained nurse to assist in medical inspection, and periodical compulsory medical inspection of the pupils. The consensus of opinion was that this was too elaborate a programme for Bassano at the present time, but that additional room must be provided for in some way.

The building of a cottage school that might later be transformed into a teachers' residence was a proposition that received approval.

RESULT OF THE LOCAL ELECTION

Playfair, McKee and Currie Elected for Council
Holmes Heads School, Board Vote

The municipal election held on Friday resulted in the election to the council of W. S. Playfair, A. McKee and E. P. Currie, while H. Holmes, Mrs. Maurer, H. J. Pigeon and C. C. Wilson were elected as school trustees. 152 votes were polled, the highest vote of any municipal election in this town. The election was keenly contested and the number of women who voted was unusually large. The contest for the council was largely between McKee and Currie on one side and Playfair and Grandfield on the other. Playfair benefiting by a "throw off" vote as three votes had to be polled. There were five spoiled ballots. In the school election, Struthers and Torgan were defeated. This contest was not such a keen fight as that for the council, but considerable interest was taken owing to the stand taken by chairman Struthers of the 1920 board. He resigned to run again on a "progressive" platform of medical inspection, addition of another male teacher, and so on. Apparently the prospect of increased taxation was the bogey that defeated Mr. Struthers and his programme.

The official figures of the election are:

Council
A. T. Connolly	70
E. P. Currie	85
A. McKee	87
W. S. Playfair	122
School Trustees
H. A. Holmes	101
Mrs. Maurer	100
H. J. Pigeon	92
R. H. Struthers	42
J. L. Torgan	37
C. C. Wilson	33

United States To Prohibit Immigration

For One Year New-Comers Will Not be Permitted to Land

WASHINGTON.—The house transmitted to the senate the Johnson bill prohibiting practically all immigration to the United States for a period of one year. The vote in the house on the measure, 205 to 141, brought to an end more than three days of heated debate on immigration affairs. It followed the failure of the senate's supporters to limit the prohibition period of two years as originally proposed. The first of these attempts brought a rising vote in favor of the two-year exclusion but the second call showed 191 in favor of the one-year period and only 106 opposed.

Proposal For Rink

Businessmen Behind Proposal For Curling and Skating Rink

Prospects for the building of a combined curling and skating rink in Bassano are bright just now. A committee of five citizens are working on plans and a site now and by next week a start will be made on the building if everything goes favorably. A big gathering held at the Alberta hotel Monday evening endorsed the rink proposition and there appears to be abundant curling and skating enthusiasm in town. It is proposed to have a great part of the rink contributed and everyone who can drive a nail should be ready to respond.

Turn Down Peace Offer

Will Ignore Offer of Lloyd George—Martial Law in Effect

DUBLIN.—It is not regarded here that any proposals will be forthcoming from Sinn Fein to the offer embodied in Premier Lloyd George's speech in the house, of common sense Friday in which he states that safe conduct would be given Sinn Fein members of parliament for discussion of the Irish question with the government. So far as can be learned from the Sinn Fein circles his speech is not regarded there as containing any terms which can be considered. The Sinn Fein members of parliament, it is declared, will not take advantage of the safe conduct offer if they consider it an attempt to induce them to sacrifice their leaders. It is suggested that the Irish Republican parliament might meet again as it has been doing occasionally, answer the premier's speech, but even this is considered unlikely, as the disposition is to ignore what he said.

Martial Law of Little Use

It is declared that imposition of martial law in the southern counties of Ireland adds little to the existing powers of the government as these counties have already had an experience of unrestricted military rule. The only novel feature is that which prescribes the penalty of death to anybody found in possession of arms or harboring persons escaping from arrest. Heretofore the penalty for these offences has involved penal servitude but the only persons surrendering arms have been law-abiding citizens not connected with the fighting while the risk of harboring escapees has been faced only by fears of visits from the black and tans.

Leap Year Dance A Merry Occasion

Hopeful of Good Results to Follow Leap Year Round Up

The Leap Year dance held last evening as a farewell to Leap Year Nineteen Twenty, and to give the single fair ones a last opportunity to grab a life line ticket, proved a success as far as fun and attendance went. If any "latches" were made they haven't developed to the stage at the time of writing and the girls are still sticking typewriter keys and bringing around trays. There was abundance of amusement especially when Miss Smith, Bassano's first lady magistrate, held court. Bill McLeads had previously announced the penal code and there were some grave infractions. Mrs. trainor's orchestra did not stut excellent dance music, the luncheon was fine and the hall rather prettily decorated.

He entered through a back window which he smashed in and was caught by the thief by Mr. McKinnis, who happened to be passing and noticed a man in a frothing position behind the counter. The man ran for the rear window and made his escape. Bill Fortier and Corporal Wright were informed and a search was made but no sign of the thief was discovered. Bill said if the fellow had come the previous evening he could have got in the side door, which was unlocked, and saved smashing the window.

Elimination of the bonus is necessary according to the manufacturers, in order to reduce their operating costs to a point where shops can be re-opened and run with profit.

Carrying Mail in Far North

A Royal mail service from White Horse to Dawson now being handled with automobile and relay of horses, is expected to bring official Canadian advice from Ottawa and other mail to coast at Dawson for the trip to the Arctic coast. Under contract, mail leaves Dawson and White Horse once a week and the contractors also are handling private parcels and passenger business both ways.

Geologists Discoveries

Calgary Alberta—Another shipment of the bones of prehistoric mammals from the fossil beds of the Red Deer river has just been shipped, east, representing the summer work of a geological party engaged by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The dinosaurs were excavated by the party one of the specimens brought to the light being pronounced the only one of its kind known to science, its entire length being between twenty and thirty feet.

Calgary Alberta—Although the eagle may be uncommon in Manitoba and around Winnipeg, near which one was shot last week, they are plentiful enough in Alberta, according to a local taxidermist, who is mounting eight of these birds brought down this year in the "Country" district. The Winnipeg eagle has a seven foot spread, and two of the Alberta birds have a spread of two inches in excess of this. The eagle has many known breeding places in the southern part of the province.

Winnipeg—The greatest prospecting rush in Canada since pre-war days, according to Arthur J. Collier, inspector, will be made in the spring of 1921. Finds in the vicinity of districts have been reported, and traces of gold and silver and a good deal of iron have been struck on both sides of Lake Winnipeg. The extent of the mining next year depends upon the building of a railway to the Flin Flin district, but even without a railway, prospecting will increase to an enormous extent.

Edmonton—Morris Ackerman of Cleveland, the noted big game hunter and publisher, who has just completed a big game hunt in the Canadian Rockies near Jasper, says that the hunting in that region is the best that the American continent offers. The bag he took back with him consisted of five grizzlies, one brown bear, one black bear, three Rocky Mountain Big Horn sheep, six goats, five calves and two moose.

Edmonton—One thousand gallons an hour is the production of the oil well in the Fort Norman district, where a flow was recently secured by the Imperial Oil Company. The activities of the company are still progressing, and drillers are full of optimism over the prospects of finding other like wells in the Peace River district where the company is being on its lease.

Brandon, Man.—Since the inauguration of the drainage schemes in Manitoba, approximately 3,000 acres of land have been reclaimed. Considered useless from an agricultural point of view, has been brought under cultivation. Fifty miles of dredge channels have been constructed at a cost of $140,000. Further development is required to complete the system of drainage.

Ottawa.—The rush of prospectors to the far north where oil discoveries are reported, has caused the government to revise the old grub-stake ordinances of the Yukon days, and it is proposed to take steps to ensure that those who go into the north will not become a charge upon the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. In consequence, only those in good physical shape, who have the rigors of an Arctic winter and have enough "grub" to keep them, will be permitted to go. Three hundred and ten permits on the head of each is certainly a high record. This is the actual number of permits on one head of each of a sample of permits No. 10 forwarded to the Agricultural Editor of the Edmonton Bulletin, by D. W. Brown, of Frog Lake, Alberta. The sample contained several permits which averaged in length from eleven to fourteen inches, and the number of permits on each head ranged from one hundred to four hundred to one hundred and fifty-five, or two hundred and eighty-eight to three hundred and ten per acre.

The crop has not yet been threshed as the yield per acre has not been ascertained but it is in proportion to the last month. The tapestries are the property of Mrs. Whitmore-Jones of Cheltenham House, Moreton-in-the-Marsh, Gloucestershire, and were recently found packed away in the bedroom occupied by the butler. It is said that they were thought to have been lost.

Historical Tapestries

LONDON, England.—An interesting history attaches to eight pieces of early English tapestry preserved for the last month. The tapestries are the property of Mrs. Whitmore-Jones of Cheltenham House, Moreton-in-the-Marsh, Gloucestershire, and were recently found packed away in the bedroom occupied by the butler. It is said that they were thought to have been lost.

An expert on tapestry said: "If the pieces are in good order and the binding is anything like as good as the demand for good tapestry, they ought to fetch anything from $200,000 to $500,000."

Each panel has a scene from the life of Judah in the centre surrounded by a scroll design, the ground work being covered with beautiful drawn and colored English flowers.

Another panel has a central group of figures, and the inscriptions read: "When Purse gave the golden apple," and "Orin, 9th chap. Rom's picture of the Judgment of Solomon."

One small piece of Sheldon tapestry recently sold in London fetched over $10,000.

BUTS

Brood me a beam and kick me out. I may be but a drunken lout. Club me here and hammer me there. A bang I huddle from fair to fair: Finest and prison and social ban— If all goes in with the life of a man!

Work or play, it is all the same. For soon we come to the end of the game: Broadheads, silks or the judge's gown. At the end of the road we all lie down: Three square meals or a crust in the road. We all march on to the same abode!

Dollars today, tomorrow, broke: I the devil, you God, I invoke: Fame and fortune and high degree Or poverty, rags and misery— Your bones—any bones—at last, at last, Will never quarrel in the same trench cast!

Beetle-browed and hard as steel, Yet, I have wherewith to feel: Broken, outlawed, ban of the street And polluted bum in hell shall meet! The thief in rags with his biter cup To no whit worse than a thief dressed up!

Smug and safe in your social skin. Think you the angels can't look in? Bah, fool! Your vices gleam! Like the wreckage of a ship in a summer stream? The world is blind! Ah, think you so? The world has a trillion eyes, or so.

Diamond decked your throats and arms— Think you they are the only charms? Brilliant halls and gleaming lights— Days turn to idle unnumbered nights! Think you those are the only places Where God's own angels show their faces?

Listen, man, I am down and out. In the slush of the street, a drunken lout: But under the drags of a better life The memory of mother, child and wife: Make me a king on a golden throne With a lone, sweet kingdom all my own? Lights my dreamy path away, Turn my darkness into day: Plead me, clothes me, fill my purse With the poorest gold in the universe, Whom me, billions me, makes me dead, With such a wisdom, I'm not all bad!

coming, or to distress your sleep. You cannot afford to allow the tension of your nerves and happiness to slip. Your black pictures deeper and deeper into your consciousness. Many people lie down to sleep as they slip into the desert with their packs still on their backs. They do not seem to lay down their burdens, and their spirits go on working a large part of the night. To keep your mental faculties on the strain, talk it will be a good plan for you to have a box in your bedroom and unloading it every night as a reminder that you should also unloading your mind, so that it will not lose its spring power. The Indian knows enough to unloading his bow so that it will not lose its resilience.

It is a good thing to form a habit of forgetting and forgiving before you go to sleep, clearing the mind of all unhappiness. If we have been impulsive, foolish or wicked during the day in our treatment of others; if we have been holding a grudge, angry, revengeful, jealous attitude to others, it is a good time to wipe off the slate and start into peace. It is a pleasant thing to put into practice St. Paul's exhortation to the Ephesians, "Let and the sun go down upon your wrath."

An evening's happiness had ought to be the custom in every home. A bath of love and good will towards every living creature is more important than a water bath.

We should feel more in the most cheerful, the happiest possible frame of mind. Our minds should be filled with happy thoughts—thoughts of love and of helpfulness—thoughts that will continue to create the which is helpful and uplifting, which will renew the soul, and help us to awake in the morning refreshed and in a high condition for the day's work.

Fake cures for tuberculosis demand the American public for $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 a year according to figures compiled by the National Tuberculosis Association. Three general types of fake cures have been classified by the tuberculosis authorities. First come those exploited by well meaning friends who suggest such things as "log" food, onions, lemons, and a certain type of exercise; the second type consists of all kinds of proprietary medicine and the third type are the so-called "secret" cures, mostly of European origin.

DON'T BE A CROAKER

Only by the side of a pleasant pool under the bank where it was dark and cool.

Where the ladies over the water hung and the grapes and the roses were.

Just were the brook forced out of the bog.

There lived a pretty and mean old frog.

Who's lit all day in the mud and sun.

And do just nothing but croak and croak.

Till a black bird whistled 'T say you know—'

What's the matter down there below? 'If you in pain or sorrow or what, and the frog answered, 'Mine is a gruesome job—'

Nothing but dirt and mud and slimy for me to look at all the live-long time.'

'Tis a dismal world,' he sadly spoke, and voiced his woes with a mournful croak.

Cattle Barons Going

Many Outfits Crowded out by Homesteaders and Others About
To Move

Rockford Reporter--This part of the province is getting settled very quickly, and many of the old time ranchers attracted by the high price of wheat, did what the newcomers are doing now and went into grain growing. The open range is going and between Nightingale and Drumheller, but for a few sections not yet fenced up, the rest is practically under cultivation.

Even the Pope lease, the last hope, is gone and by next year one will be able to see many returned soldiers harvesting a land on which had spent more than 5,000 head of cattle were grazing.

The ranching times are gone, as forever it seems. The oldtimers of this district, Langlet, Hines, Nolan, Kelly, Pope, have sold or will be selling away most of their cattle.

A few of them like Haines and Kowalsky and Cyr have still a few head running near Hazaar but the herds that were so typical of this province are now gone, and by next year this section will have become an exclusive farming country.

Of course it is no much better for the whole community, but it is impossible not to feel any sadness in seeing the oldtimers go. They were the pioneers of the land. Their hospitality, simple and touching, was always greeted with a good heart. They were free men and lived as such.

Cradle of the Race

NEW YORK. Where was the cradle of man?

Once more science will make an attempt to find the "missing link" between the man and his animal ancestors.

If the five-year search to be started in February by the American Museum of Natural History, succeeds, it will be shown that man had his origin from the beasts of the field and forest of the far East and not, as heretofore supposed in the British Isles.

Backed with $250,000 supplied by wealthy firms, the American Anthropological Society and the Asia magazine, Roy Chapman Andrews, associate curator of mammals for the museum will head a large party of scientists and hunters early next spring.

With headquarters at Peking, China, the expedition will spend several months searching in the Far East for traces of prehistoric man.

Until a British surveyor in 1901 discovered a fossil skull in Java, the only bones of early man and "man-mon" had been found in England with

The Municipal Election

The municipal election held here on Monday taught some lessons from which it would be well to adopt remedial measures in the future.

In one or two instances who would have been entitled to a vote had their names been placed on the roll, were deprived of the ballot. During the month of August women who are entitled to vote because of their husbands owning property in town, may have their names placed on the voters' list. In many cases this is done by the town secretary of his own knowledge but this is no guarantee that names may not be omitted. It is the duty of everyone who legitimately has a vote to see that his or her name is properly placed on the list at the right time.

Proper publicity of the dates wherein names may be placed on the list would give a better opportunity to ratepayers to take an interest in the voters' list.

Another point about which more information and instruction might well be given is the voting. It should not be forgotten that it is only of recent date that women were given the privilege of the ballot and they cannot be expected to possess the knowledge of voting and of public affairs that men have. Education along these lines would prevent a good many spoiled ballots and be of real benefit to the community.

Appreciate The Mail

Many kind remarks have been made to the publisher of The Mail with reference to the appearance of this newspaper and this is to express appreciation for same. It certainly helps a lot to know that one's efforts are being rewarded and those who took the trouble to make known their appreciation have earned our thanks. We are striving to give Bassano a newspaper that the people of the town and district may feel proud of and take an interest in.

The building up of a newspaper to a position of respect and confidence is the exception of the famous "Hobbit" "burg Man," part of whose bones were found to have lived 500,000 years ago. New scientists believe that the

Card No. 1

Beware of Cement Chimneys

Further points on the Prevention of Fire. Watch for the card to follow.

7. Build chimneys from the ground, not on brackets. Brackets sag and cause cracks. Heat cracks cement chimneys. Use bricks with lime mortar only.
8. Keep your yards clean. Fires from rubbish heaps may spread to your buildings. Flow fire guns when burning straw piles or heaps of rubbish.

Buy an Irrigated Farm

From the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall, and ensures good crops, not occasionally, but EVERY YEAR.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, as King of feedstuffs, which increases good returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement, with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the years that it has been tried having conclusively demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record.

in a community requires years of untiring and ceaseless effort, and the sympathetic support of the people. But the support of subscribers and advertisers may not be obtained without service rendered, for the days of piteous whines from mendicant editors for financial assistance is past.

It is unnecessary to quote kind remarks concerning The Mail made by everyone but we will give a few:

One subscriber writes: "You have certainly improved The Mail. It looks like a city daily."

Another: "Congratulations on the appearance of The Mail. You are giving your subscribers an excellent newspaper."

Another: "The Mail is coming forward quite regularly now and certainly keeping up well with the first editions you got out."

And so on, it being needless to give further quotations, our object in printing these remarks being to give some idea of the manner in which subscribers are taking the trouble to express their appreciation.

Editorial Notes

The Mail believes that the school board lost a faithful, energetic and wide-awake trustee when R. A. Travis was not re-nominated for the board. School ratepayers should waken up and see that men of some spirit such as Travis is, should not be lost to the public service.

Robt. McLean suggests the name of the "Municipal Moses" for Harry Bacon. Moses never reached the promised land, however, and there is still opportunity to graduate into the Joshua class.

The mayor having the appointment of the committees of the council, we would suggest to His Worship that he first hand the chairman of the 1921 finance committee a dictionary which might furnish enlightenment on what's in a name.

Sir Geo. Foster took a few days off from his peace conference duties to get married. As he is 73 and his wife to be may expect his peace conference training to come in handy at home.

Townpeople have been entertained by the spectacle of a dog's convention on the main street during the last week. A few lights added to the gay-ety of the occasion. One of the dogs, cially for the convention, killed one

THE FAMILY HERALD AND WEEKLY STAR

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal has announced that after December 31st, 1920, the subscription price of that great weekly will be $2.00 per year in Canada,
England, Ireland or Scotland, and $2.50 to the United States. This recent heavy increase in the cost of white paper makes such advance necessary, in fact it is only a small portion of the increased cost over pre-war prices of production. All renewal and subscription, the publishers say, mailed before December 31st, 1920, will be accepted at the old rate of $1.50. Even at the advanced price of $2.00 a year, the Family
Herald is regarded as the best value on the continent. It is acknowledged to be absolutely without a rival, hence its enormous circulation.

If your paper does not come regularly please advise the publisher at once. Errors in addressing occur at times and prompt reporting by the subscriber checks these.

Don't forget the chance to be held at the Gayety theatre, Brooks, on Wed. Dec. 22. Mrs. Trainor's orchestra will provide the music.
